As a native, I believe I understand in a special way how to meet the varied needs of our residents. During my many years of banking experience, I’ve performed a variety of functions. Therefore, whether a customer is seeking a small business loan, a home mortgage, an auto loan, trust advice, or related service, I’m able to assist them. Being equipped to address many needs applies not only to the workplace, but also within the community, where our dedicated employees volunteer their time, skills and talents to support a multitude of worthy causes. This increases my pride in our people, our establishment, and our hometown.”
